SAYS WALKER WOOD HAS CLEAN SLATE

Secretary of State Will Come Out on Top, Says Onlooker. Jackson Growing and General Feeling of Optimism in State. Conner and Franklin Only Sure Candidates for Governor and, If Only They Run, Thinks Campaign Will Be Cleanest in Long While. Tax Commission Boosts Assessments.

Grenada Sentinel:

Has been some weeks since I have dropped in on your readers, so I thought maybe you would like to have some items from the State Capital about now.

The first thing that perhaps comes to the average mind is, "What are the investigations showing?" Well, nobody but the investigators seems to know what has been developed, if anything. One thing to a dead moral certainty and that is that the people of Mississippi can be assured that there is nothing wrong in the official record of Hon. Walker Wood, secretary of state, intimations and innuendoes from other sources to the contrary notwithstanding. Wood's official record is as clean as a hound's tooth. Wood's books were audited by one of the special auditors, employed by Gov. Bilbo before anybody started "investigating", and that audit showed Wood O. K. While I know that nobody who knows Walker Wood expects anything else, this is especially gratifying news to his friends throughout the state and more particularly to the newspaper fraternity.

The special house committee headed by Hon. Sam Anderson is digging in on the records of Bura Hilbun, named by Gov. Bilbo as the head of the state's agricultural service bureau. Unfortunately Mr. Hilbun is laid up as a result of an automobile accident, and some reports from his bedside say he is seriously if not permanently injured. The charge against Hilbun is current that he failed to account for all the Rosenwald funds, when he was state supervisor for negro schools. Rumor has it that the first information about Hilbun's alleged shortage came from the office of the state superintendent of education after Gov. Bilbo had dubbed Mr. Bond as his very own "jackass". There is a general demand that now, since investigations have been started, none be left out and it seems that none will be overlooked. Yet there are some who are not uttering anything like Isaiah uttered when he answered, "Here I am, Lord send me"—these are not saying "investigate me".

Candidates for the next governor's race are being talked just a little. The discussion now of candidates for that high office are somewhat ahead of what is usual. Mike Conner's friends are saying "this is Mike's time". From all that can be gathered that gentleman is now in the race, and his old friends are saying that he will leave the post with many adhering to his banner who never before supported him. It filters into Jackson that Mr. Conner is moving around cautiously over the state and making a few speeches here and there to the opportunity offered. Another gentleman regarded as most certainly in the race is Hon. Lester Franklin, chairman of the state tax commission. Mr. Franklin was in the race in 1923. If only Conner and Franklin run, the Mississippi public may look forward to one of the cleanest political battles that has been waged in the state for many years. There are others who are "being mentioned", but up to this time they are not regarded seriously.

Visitors to Jackson bring reports from different parts of the state that county game wardens are having trouble in enforcing the game law, and that it is difficult in many instances to secure guilty verdicts from juries in magistrates' courts. Just why it is that men who would resent most violently the allegation of lying will take a solemn oath as a juror and then blandly fail to carry out the law is one of the yet unexplained things, unless it be that people too much want the other fellow to respect the law but "we'll do as we please".

A contract has been made by milling interests at Picanine, it is authoritatively stated, for 750,000 feet of pine logs to be shipped from Nicaragua. Mississippi has practically sold all her best timber.

The state tax commission threw a bomb this week among the taxpayers of the state in ordering increases in a vast majority of the counties in assessment rolls. Big legislative appropriations require more and more money from the taxpayers.

Jackson is still on a safe and sane boom. Buildings are going up and it seems safe to wager that in ten years the State Capital will have a population of 75,000.

As I get the pulse of the state here in Jackson, there is a feeling of optimism throughout Missis-

NINE GAMES SCHEDULED BY GRENADA HI ELEVEN

With only five men back from last year's champion team and with the other young "Bull Dogs", Coach J. C. Hathorn, of the Grenada High School, has been working hard to turn out a football team as strong as the last one. For three weeks the boys have been getting in shape for the first game with the heavy Oakland Aggies, Sept. 27. This game will be a hard one and the local eleven is counting on a full quota of Grenada fans for their first encounter of the season.

The full schedule, announced by Coach Hathorn, follows:

Sept. 27, Oakland Aggies, at Grenada; Oct. 4, Ruleville at Grenada; Oct. 12, Kosciusko at Kosciusko; Oct. 18, Oxford at Oxford; Oct. 25, Charleston Aggies at Charleston; Nov. 1, Charleston High at Charleston; Nov. 7, Pontotoc at Grenada; Nov. 16, Water Valley at Grenada; Nov. 27, Winona at Winona.

Negress Shot Twice Byirate Neighbor

Goose Is Innocent Cause of Negro Man Unlimbering Artillery. Captured at Oakland and Lodged in County Jail.

Dave Ross, negro about 30 years of age, had no doubt heard something about the cackling of a goose saving a certain city, and thinking that he would reverse the order and not allow a goose save even one woman from his wrath, seized his pistol at an early hour Tuesday morning and, while standing on the gallery of his own home, proceeded to unlimber his artillery to the tune of two bullets which found lodgment in the body of his neighbor, Sallie McGlover, perhaps 60 years old, all because there was a divergence of views about a certain goose said to be the property of the McGlover woman. David evidently did not like the habit of the goose of sticking its nose into his affairs and so he protested, and when protests fell like water on the back of the goose, he brought into play his trusty pistol which he said he got from Sears & Roebuck.

When the smoke of the pistol cleared away, he lost no time in realizing that he would have to do more than goose step, so he called on his legs to take him away and away they took him. Sheriff Nason and deputy marshal, Kilgore, were soon on the scene. They got busy and telephoned up and down the railroad that they would be obliged if officers chanced to see a fleeing negro that they would lay hands on him and hold him until they could arrive. It was but a few hours until a message from Oakland told the story of David's attempt to pass through that town, and that he was for the time being in safe keeping. He is now in the county jail awaiting such action as the fate of the woman warrants the courts in taking. The woman is said to stand a good chance to recover.

ATTEND OPENING GAME AND ELECT YOUR SPONSOR

Today the Grenada "Bull Dogs" are to be kicked on the Oakland Aggies in the first game of the season. This game is expected to be a hard fought one, and when the referee's whistle announces the finish, each team will know it has had a scrap.

For four weeks Coach J. C. Hathorn has been working hard to fill the spaces left by Peyton Irby, John Williams, Joseph Woodson, Hester Spruill, Marvin Sanders and Lloyd Lott. These boys have gone from us for ever as active players but we know they are still of us.

With only five old men back from last year's champion team, and with the other boys that have had the nerve and grit to stand the long steady grind of Coach Hathorn, we expect a team equal to, if not better than our last year's team. There is no reason why we shouldn't if the student body of Grenada Hi and the people of Grenada will show that old genuine school "Spirit" and attend the games.

The candidates for sponsor for this year's team are: Frances Honeycutt, 9th grade; Mary Elsie Campbell, tenth grade; Virginia Smith, eleventh grade; and Anne Elizabeth Dubard, twelfth grade. These four girls were chosen by the football squad, and they are leaving it to their "backers" to elect their sponsor.

Grady Perkins, captain elect and quarter, will run the team. Come and see the machine work.

Mississippi that augurs well for the business future. The cotton crop is above the average, and better prices than usual are being paid for cotton seed. If people could be induced to save out of these harvest days and pay debts and contract no more obligations, we would be soon on Easy Street. But they won't.

T. P. LAMKIN ENDS LIFE'S JOURNEY, FRIDAY, SEPT 20

Mr. T. P. Lamkin passed to the beyond on Friday night, 7:45 o'clock, September 20, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. L. Wilkins, in Grenada. The end came suddenly and without warning. Only an hour or two before he had returned from a one hundred and fifty mile automobile trip to his farm, near Sledge, on which trip he was accompanied by his daughter. He reached home apparently feeling none the worse for the drive and had just begun his evening meal when he was stricken.

The funeral services were conducted from All Saints Episcopal church, of which he was a member, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. J. H. Boosey, after which the body was carried to Odd Fellows' cemetery and there laid to rest amid a bower of flowers.

Thus ended the earthly pilgrimage of perhaps Grenada county's oldest citizen, that of a man who had seen life from many angles and who had had a varied experienced reaching back to the days ante-dating the Civil War and to that trying period of Reconstruction which will long be regarded as a "Black Friday" in the history of the South. Mr. Lamkin was a man careful and discreet of speech. He was slow to make a promise but always careful to keep any obligation he made. He was loyal in his professions, and ever tried to be just in dealing with his fellowman. He met the scriptural injunction of providing well for those of his own household. His life for the past dozen or more years with one of his devoted daughters and four lovely granddaughters made a beautiful picture of devotion and fatherly care and of that abiding love known only to father and mother and among thoughtful children.

Mr. Lamkin was born about five miles west of Grenada at what was then called Troy, a steamboat town on the north bank of the Yalobusha river almost south of the home now occupied by Roland W. Jones and family. The date of his birth was August 30, 1839. He had the privilege denied to the men of celebrating his 90th birthday. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Griffin Lamkin, his mother's maiden name being Peete, a sister of Mr. Cas C. Peete, once a prominent citizen of district five and whose home was within a short distance of what is now Parsons. He had only one brother, George Lamkin, who passed away some years ago.

Mr. Lamkin had only such school advantages as that day afforded. Early in life he evinced a working spirit; he showed that his talents ran in a business way. His earlier plans were thwarted by the Civil War, in which he took part, having enlisted in the company commanded by Col. W. H. Fitzgerald, then of Charleston, who in later years became a prominent attorney of Grenada.

After the Civil War, Mr. Lamkin spent the first year farming on Tallahatchie river just above what is now known as Phillip. He then came out to the "Valley" and later engaged in the mercantile business about one mile south of what was then Chocoma ferry, on the J. M. Duncan farm. Later he was also a partner in a mercantile business on the Valley road south of Ascalmore creek, the firm being Lamkin & Thompson. The junior member of the firm was Graham Thompson, a very fine young man who fell a victim to yellow fever in the memorable epidemic of 1878.

In the event, he was married to Miss Helen Duncan, beautiful of person and one even more beautiful in character. To this union, three children were born, two daughters, Helene, now Mrs. Beatty, and Eloise, Mrs. Wilkins, and a son who died when quite a child.

Mrs. C. A. Beatty, the oldest daughter, resides in Toledo, Ohio, but came at once when he received the message of her father's demise. She had only about ten days ago returned home from a visit here.

A number of relatives from a distance came to attend the funeral and to pay their last respects to the departed.

The active pallbearers were: R. C. Trusty, Kemp Mattingly, R. W. Jones, Dr. C. K. Bailey, Cowles Horton and A. M. Carothers. The honorary pallbearers were: T. E. Moody, J. T. Thomas, W. B. Hoffa and O. F. Lawrence.

To the bereft, The Sentinel extends sincere sympathy.

Announcement is being made today by Mrs. Ida Campbell, teacher of the Ladies' Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School, of an especially important meeting Sunday morning, September 29, at 8:30, at the end of the Sunday School year. An election of officers and teachers will be held and Mrs. Campbell is very anxious to have every member present as well as any visitors or strangers who might care to attend.

The Parent Teacher's Association will meet Thursday afternoon, October 3, at 3:30 at the high school building. This is an especially important meeting and the president urges that all the members be present.

Compress Receipts More Than Double

Grenada Compress 1 es Nearly 2 1/2 Times as Bales of Cotton This Compared to Same Per. 1928. Cotton Maturing Earlier than Thirty Years and Reasons Suggested This. Crop Should Be Gathered by Oct. 25.

Cotton is rolling in to the market. The census bureau may make a mistake to the value of $4,200,000 in giving out the figures on the cotton crop estimate, but that doesn't seem to bother the farmer in the least; he just refuses to think about it.

The receipts in bales at the Grenada Compress, up to and including September 24, as compared with last year up to the same date were:

	1928	1929
Railroad	982	2369
Wagon	1106	2175
Other sources	224	1056

Total 2306 5600

On hand 2203 4357

In other words, the receipts this year are more than 240 per cent of last year's receipts over the same period.

Unquestionably a very large per cent of the cotton is open, and it is being picked just as rapidly as picking can be done. The entire crop in this section should be gathered by the 25th day of October.

The farmer thirty years ago had barely begun to pick cotton in real earnest before the latter part of September. The cotton just did not open well enough to justify continuous picking before the latter part of September. In heroic effort, to fortify against the boll weevil, cotton seed have been developed to mature earlier, hence earlier opening. It is a rather rare thing now to see the cotton stalk of years ago which was often on good land as high as one's head and so thoroughly lapped together in the middle of the rows that travel down the row was more or less difficult. And with the going of the huge stalk has come less in yield per acre. A small stalk just cannot hold the bolls that a big stalk can. Another thing in the years ago, the farm which did not show up some white cotton patches about the Christmas period was an exception.

The receipt, of cotton in this market to date indicate more than an average yield in this section.

Rotary Governor Visits Local Club

Chauncey Smith, of Clarksdale, Pays Official Visit to Grenada Rotary Club. Makes Interesting Address on Rotary Problems.

Chauncey Smith, of Clarksdale, governor of the sixteenth district of Rotary International, was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Grenada Rotary Club Tuesday at noon. The local club is the twenty-first visited by Governor Smith since he took over the reins of office on July 1st.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the governor launched into a discussion of many of the varied phases of Rotary, telling of its marvelous growth over the world and pointing out the many new problems that have arisen as the result of this growth. He said that Rotary clubs are now to be found in 52 countries of the world and that the program outlined by Rotary International contemplated 101 nations having Rotary clubs by 1934. The speaker told how the organization of clubs in the different countries, had served to break down international boundary lines and how it had aided in adjusting differences between nations. Governor Smith by no means undertook to claim for Rotary all the credit for these things but to the contrary he gave praise to the many other international organizations and groups for their share in striving for world peace and fellowship.

Upon the individual club and its members depends the success of Rotary, he said, and he called attention to the many ways in which a Rotary club could and should serve its community. He stated that Rotary International could do nothing without authority given it from the clubs themselves and this authority is delegated to it only at the annual international conventions.

He went on to relate how the success of the club depended upon the interest taken in its activities by the members and that each member, to be interested, should be given some part in the club's work and in its programs.

Governor Smith proved himself an entertaining speaker. He has an excellent delivery and he couched his utterances in words and phrases that are easily followed. His hearers gave him the closest attention throughout his remarks and all of them no doubt received renewed inspiration from his address.

Attention of the club was called to a request from the King's Daughters for a position for a day, serving lady needing work.

It was voted unanimously to send some flowers to Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt who has been seriously ill for some days.

Mr. Meyer, of Memphis, was a guest at the luncheon.

RESOLUTIONS DEPLORE GIRL'S UNTIMELY DEATH

Whereas our community has been saddened by the untimely death of Miss, Blanche Bloodworth, "Ole Miss" co-ed, and the serious injury of Miss Anne Lee Crawford, University "Y" Worker, and Whereas, we believe this accident to have been the direct result of lawlessness, and Whereas, we believe, in fairness ourselves and to our community ought, as citizens, to express abhorrence of this uncalled for edy

Therefore be it resolved by us citizens of Oxford, the University, and Lafayette County:

That we extend to the families of the bereaved and injured our deep sympathy and deplore most sincerely this unfortunate accident that has shocked our community and state.

2nd. That we urge our officers and courts to apprehend those who are responsible for and guilty of this tragedy and bring them to justice.

3rd. That copies of these resolutions be sent to the families of the bereaved and injured, and to the following papers for publication: The Commercial and Evening Appeals, the Jackson Daily News, The Oxford Eagle, The Mississippiian, The Grenada Sentinel, Laurel Leader and Mississippi Sun.

Passed by a group of approximately one hundred citizens of Oxford, the University, and Lafayette County.

L. H. ELLISON, FORMER GRE-NADA CITIZEN, IS DEAD

Mr. L. H. Ellison died at a Memphis hospital Monday night of this week and his remains were brought to Grenada Wednesday, Sept. 24, on train No. 3 and laid to rest in Odd Fellows cemetery that afternoon in the family lot where the remains of one more member of the family sleep. Mr. Ellison and family are pleasantly remembered in Grenada. They came here some thirty years ago from some place in the north and during their few years' residence in Grenada, made many warm friends. Mr. Ellison erected the Episcopal church now occupied by Mr. H. T. Pope and family. He was 74 years old and was residing at Lake Cormorant when he became ill. The funeral services were conducted at the cemetery by Rev. J. H. Holder of the Methodist church of which congregation he was a member.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Willie Brantley Ellison, and eight children: Mrs. A. Taylor, Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. W. A. Cox, Marks, Miss.; Mrs. Fern Doris, Milledgeville, Ga.; J. W. Ellison, Lexington, Miss.; E. H. Ellison, El Paso, Texas; Mrs. C. G. Steele, Clarksdale, Miss.; and Leon and Gladys Ellison, Lake Cormorant, Miss.

OPERETTA A SUCCESS

The romantic comic operetta, "Hearts and Blossoms" which was staged at the Masonic open air theater on last Friday evening brought fresh laurels to a number of Grenadians who had previously won honor for themselves in amateur theatricals.

There was a splendid cast and the girls in the chorus were unusually pretty and graceful.

Miss Catherine Lufkin, at the piano, and Mr. Bernard Cohen, violinist, of Winona, furnished the music.

Mr. J. E. Lufkin, who so ably directed the operetta, deserves especial commendation.

Attention of the club was called to a request from the King's Daughters for a position for a day, serving lady needing work.

It was voted unanimously to send some flowers to Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt who has been seriously ill for some days.

Mr. Meyer, of Memphis, was a guest at the luncheon.

HERE'S A CHANCE FOR SOMEBODY

W. J. Wood, general agent for the Reading United Shows, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., of the Tennessee Amusement Co., Inc., makes the following offer personally: to any couple of this city or county who will be married publicly on Friday night at the American Legion carnival to be held here the week of October 28th he will give $100 in cash, the wedding supper and all necessary expenses. Any couple interested in this offer must go before a Justice of the Peace and swear before him that they will do as they say.

All application, for this offer should be addressed to W. J. Wood, care The Grenada Sentinel.

Session Begins At Grenada College

Appropriate Exercises Mark Formal Opening of New Year at Institution. Enrollment Is Most Gratifying.

Grenada College opened for the 1929-30 session last Thursday morning, Sept. 19th, with one of the largest enrollments in its history. An appropriate program of worship, music, expression and address, in the Wilkinson auditorium marked the formal opening. Worship was led by Rev. E. H. Cunningham, presiding elder of the Grenada District. Miss Iona May Liller gave several beautiful vocal solos; Miss Elizabeth Ferguson rendered a classic piano number and Miss Ruth Bale two or three popular readings. Rev. Melville Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Church in Winona, made an inspirational address on "If I Were a Freshman Again." President J. R. Countiss introduced the new members of the faculty.

The teachers were all in place for the opening day and the new session started, most auspiciously. The enrollment is already in advance of that for last year, and several of those registered were unable to be present at the opening. The senior class is the largest in the history of the institution and the enrollment of day students is greater than at any previous time. Two full days had been given to the matriculation of the freshman class, during which time they had lectures from members of the faculty, examinations on the college hand-book and also mental tests under Mr. D. P. Wilson of the department of education, who has had large experience in this type of work under one of the leading experts of the south. Everything possible has been done to make the new students feel at home and they seem to have responded in a most satisfactory manner by going enthusiastically into the regular work of the session which augurs well for a most successful year.

Many improvements were made in the building, during the summer by the college authorities. One new building, a professor's cottage on College Boulevard, has been erected and repairs and additions were made to other structures on the campus.

GRENADA COLLEGE NOTES

The college girls and faculty were guests of the Grenada Theater at a vitaphone picture Wednesday night of last week at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Williams. Mr. Williams is the owner of the theater. On Friday Messrs. Jack Dyre and Spivey Kent invited them to the Dyre-Kent Drug Co. for free drinks and ice cream.

Forty girls from the town of Grenada are enrolled at the college this year, an increase over the former number. They plan an organization for the purpose of securing a closer cooperation between town and college students.

Dr. Egbert Smith, president of the Presbyterian Mission Board, addressed the student body at the chapel hour Saturday morning, giving a most interesting account of his travel, especially in the Congo, Brazil and China. Dr. Smith has the distinction of having visited every Presbyterian mission field in the world.

The second social function sponsored by the "Y" was held Saturday night in the college gymnasium. All guests wore gingham aprons and smocks. Delightful refreshments were served following an evening of informal fun.

Following a physical examination Monday to determine their fitness for gym work, the girls are now doing hard training in the physical education department. Miss Lillian McGrath is director of the physical education work and plans a specially interesting course for this session.

The ice cream festival held last Thursday afternoon in the city park under the auspices of the Episcopal church, was a decided success. The home made cream and cake which were served were unusually delicious. The ladies of the church are to be highly commended.

VISITORS SPEAK IN GRENADA CHURCHES

Bishop Green Fills Pulpit in Episcopal Church Sunday. Dr. Smith with Presbyterians and Mr. Barnett Visits with Methodist Congregation. Dr. Farr's Sermon on Stewardship Fits In with Programs of Other Churches. Barnett Makes Several Addresses and Methodist Pastors' Group Meets.

Grenada enjoyed a rare opportunity in the preaching services Sunday because of visiting ministers and the visit of Mr. Fred T. Barnett, of Nashville, to the Methodist church.

Bishop William Mercer Green of the Episcopal church dropped in on the congregation of All Saints church Sunday morning on his return from Water Valley and, as usual, delivered a most worth while message. Bishop Green is second to no divine in Mississippi in ability. Had it been generally known that he would conduct the services at the Episcopal church that morning, he would have had many additional ones to hear him.

The Presbyterian congregation had with them Dr. Egbert W. Smith, of Nashville, executive secretary for the foreign mission work of his church. His theme Sunday morning was "Stewardship". Those who enjoyed the privilege of hearing Dr. Smith were charmed with him as a minister.

Mr. Smith's visit to Grenada and the fact that Dr. W. E. Farr, of the First Baptist church, stressed "stewardship" in his morning sermon, together with the visit of Mr. Barnett to the Methodist church shows that the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists are cooperating to bring to the attention of their members certain things which they regard as vital to the welfare of their respective churches.

The writer heard Mr. Barnett three times. He is one of the specialty men sent out from Nashville. He is evidently earnestly concerned about what he is undertaking and it is manifest that he believes vitally in the message he delivers. He is an interesting talker. He presents forcibly and well his subject.

His first address in Grenada was to the Men's Bible class of the Methodist church Sunday morning. His second was to the whole congregation at the 11 o'clock hour and then again in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, and that night at 7:30 o'clock. He was also the principal speaker before the pastors' association which was called together by the presiding elder of this district, Rev. E. H. Cunningham Monday.

Mr. Barnett sought to lodge the conviction in the mind of his hearers that the Southern Methodist church was contributing but a mere pittance as compared to some other churches. He emphasized that all belongs to God—life, body, soul and all material possessions. He combatted the idea that the law of tithing as taught in the Old Testament had been abrogated and gave proof to back up this idea.

He said that not only should men give the tenth, that was legal, but they should make free will offerings besides and only in this way, he said, could the great program of the Methodist church be carried forward. He said that 250 Adventists in Louisville gave for their budget and missions, $30,000, or about $121 per capita while southern Methodists gave only 73 cents per capita. He cited the work of the Mormons and how voluntarily and liberally they paid into the treasury of their church. He mentioned the $700,000 Mormon temple at Phoenix, Arizona and how easily the Mormons built it. He said that if Grenada's Methodists would contribute as the Lord had prospered them, the Sunday School building and the contemplated church could be built and all paid for with but little delay.

All Mr. Barnett's messages were well thought out and there was no lost motion about their bearing directly on the subject he discussed, "Stewardship and the duty of recognizing God in practical life".

The district pastors' association was well attended. The program had been well mapped out by Rev. Melville Johnson, president of the association. Besides the several talks by Mr. Barnett, Mr. H. H. Boswell, of Coffeeville, district lay leader, made an impressive address. Brief remarks were made by several of the ministers present and the most earnest attention was evident to the work in hand.

The ladies of the Methodist church served a noonday luncheon in the basement of the church to all visitors. The pastors' association concluded its labors Monday afternoon.

Miss Mary Rose has accepted a position with the Corner Drug Store and began her duties there Thursday morning.

GRENADA NEVER SO INVITING TO THE TRADE

This trade territory never before, certainly not for many years, had such an inviting field for Grenada merchants as there is today, in the fall of the year 1929.

In the first place, the top of the market price is being paid for cotton. If there is any question about this we have heard of no complaint along that line.

In the next place, the price offered here for cotton seed tops the market. It cannot be beat throughout the whole cotton belt. Forty dollars per ton for cotton seed and the gins running day and much of the night. Wagons are standing on the gin grounds when day dawns and they are there when the sun says good night in the west.

In the next place, we do not believe that the merchants ever before exercised greater care in purchasing their goods. They have bought that which they think the people demand and are offering merchandise at figures that challenge any other market. The stocks are large and well assorted. The most fastidious have no excuse for not being pleased.

In the next place, never before did highway arteries give the town access to such a large territory. East and west, north and south, highways which equal any in the state, lead into Grenada.

The neighborhood roads are in good condition. And the matter of roads is a very important factor in reaching a market. Farmers have begun to count more than ever before the wear and tear of machinery and what it means to travel their mules as well as automobiles and trucks over rough roads. It is cheaper to go 30 miles to market over a good road than ten miles over a bad road.

Trade opportunity is knocking at the door of this trade territory. Trade opportunity is knocking at the door of Grenada merchants. Let it be utilized by both the trade and the merchant.

REGRETTABLE ACTION OF GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

Some few days ago the Grand Army of the Republic, at Portland, Maine, representing what remains of the Federal soldiers of the Civil War, spurned the invitation of the Confederate Veterans to meet the next time in joint session.

The action of the Grand Army of the Republic is to be regretted. We are glad that the Dixie boys extended the invitation; it was patriotic, high and noble, and showed a commendable Christian spirit.

The Dixie boys meant what they said otherwise they would never have said it. The action of the Confederate Veterans represents the true feeling of the south.

It was the South which played the greatest part in making this government. It was a southerner who wrote the Declaration of Independence. It was the South that took the most prominent part in framing the constitution of this government. It was the South that furnished the first President and it was the South that very largely directed the course of the National Government in the first 80 years of its history.

We are confident that the invitation spurned by the Grand Army of the Republic does not represent the best thought of the so-called North, or any ways near a majority of the thought of the people north of the old Mason and Dixon line. They are to be pitied more than censured for the action they took.

The dividing lines of the Civil War have long ago been marked out and demolished. The sons of the men who really fought the family battles of 1861-65, have marched side by side on the Island of Cuba where another great victory was won for freedom of a people. These same sons and their sons together faced the far flung lines of the enemy on the soil of Belgium and France and there again made more brilliant the stars that bedeck Old Glory. Is all this not enough? What more is possible?

Again we say pity those who harbor hate all these years, and about a cause for which neither the haters nor the hated were responsible.

LEAVE CARS AT HOME ON SATURDAYS.

If the business men and others in Grenada who are in the habit of driving their automobiles downtown on Saturday mornings and parking them on the streets all day long while they are at work will leave the cars at home, it will serve to greatly relieve the congestion on the streets. Saturday still remains the biggest business day in the week for Grenada merchants and anything that will aid in providing more adequate parking facilities for those from out of town will benefit all of us.

Further, if the ladies of Grenada will do their Saturday shopping early in the morning, that, too, will provide more parking accommodations for visitors and will enable the stores to serve their out-of-town trade more promptly.

These suggestions are not made at the instance of any business house in Grenada but are merely offered in a spirit of helpfulness for what helps one of Grenada helps all and we are sure that all loyal Grenadians have the best interests of the community at heart.

NEVER HAVE SO MANY LITTLE FISH BEEN EATEN.

Before the earth had form and was void, the big fish ate the little fish. That has continued from that day up to now with the life that infests the waters of the deep.

Man has ever shown much of the inclinations and the disposition manifested by animals. He has ever shown marked proclivities of being both an omnivorous and carnivorous animal.

There never was before in all the history of the world so many little fish in the economic and business world being eaten by the big fish. There are combines and combinations that are just as surely marking pathways for revolution as the rising sun dispels the darkness of the night. Big business is forging chains around the economic life of these United States that are bound to be shocking to the contemplative minded.

One corporation buys another and then the two together buy many others and water the stock and brazenly confront the government with the statement, "Why, we have so and so invested, hence we have a right to earn a legitimate interest rate".

They claim, for example, an investment of $3,000,000 when as a matter of fact they have but one million in actual dollars invested, and claim a right to net earnings of 5 per cent on that amount over and above expenses which one readily sees is 15 per cent on the actual investment. But that's twentieth century business.

MR. TAXPAYER, READ COUNTY STATEMENT.

Mr. Taxpayer, read the statement of Grenada county, which appeared in our last issue and which was published as required by law. By posting yourself on what your county is spending, you are a better informed citizen and are better prepared to give intelligent consideration to tax matters and to questions that may arise from time to time about county finances. The man who posts himself on these matters renders a service to the board of supervisors and is prepared to give that body intelligent counsel and cooperation when requested.

The Sentinel believes that the tax payers of this county are getting an honest administration of their affairs. Other counties may have grafting and there may be speculations, but this paper believes that the supervisors of Grenada county are giving honest service and that they are doing the best they can.

The disbursements for the past fiscal year show a total of $50,519.29 paid in handling charges on bonds and in interest; that the bonds redeemed and notes canceled, amounted to $58,550.00; that there was paid for salaries on road work, $37,876.30 and that the total for roads and bridges was $91,928.43; that the total expended for schools was $67,012.43 and that the total disbursements for the fiscal year were, $408,425.63.

THE NEGRO WILL BE THE GOAT.

The tragic death of Miss Blanche Bloodworth at Oxford which was caused by drunken occupants of an automobile shocked the whole state. There were two negroes and three white men in the car. A negro was at the wheel. Van East, said to be a notorious moonshiner and bootlegger and a sort of general lawbreaker, was one of the party and was no doubt the primal source of the drunkenness of the crowd. The white fellows had hired the negro taxi driver and got him drunk.

Our guess is that the negro at the wheel will be made the goat. There has never yet been one more shameless or one showing a more utter disregard of human life and the spirit of the daredevil, than the one who knocked this fine, sweet young woman off a bridge and sent her body hurtling through over 50 feet space to the ground below. It is up to Oxford and the law-abiding element of Lafayette county to see that justice is avenged and that the law's severest penalties are meted out to the five in the car. The drunken car driver is a menace to life and is entitled to no mercy.

CITY COUNCIL'S STATEMENT AND BUDGET.

The city council of Grenada published the statement of the expenses of the city government of Grenada in the last issue, and also the proposed expenditures, as shown in the budget, for another year. The taxpayers of the town ought to read and analyze the report and scan carefully the budget. To do so would be a duty performed to themselves and the discharge of an obligation each and every citizen owes to his neighbor and to the town at large. Many will say, if asked about it, we hazard the opinion: "Yes, I saw the statement and the budget, but just did not have time to read them and would not have known much about them if I had read them". Just such indifference and carelessness upon the part of the people at large is what is responsible for so much wrong we have in government today throughout the land. "My business", you may say, "was pressing me"; yes, but the city's business is "your business" and if you do not attend to it, and things continue all over the land and as they are today, you are heading some of your children, or maybe grandchildren, for the bankrupt court just as sure as the good Lord made little apples.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned remedy, which you can get at 35c per bottle from

PETITION FOR PARDON

To His Excellency, The Governor of the State of Mississippi.

Your Petitioner, John Johnson, respectfully represents: that at the July term, 1928, of the Circuit Court of Grenada County he was convicted of possessing a still and sentenced to serve eighteen months in the State Penitentiary; that he has served ten months of this sentence; that for the same offense he was convicted in the District Court of the United States, and served in full the sentence of that court.

Petitioner now prays, a pardon at the hands of the Governor of the State and in support of his petition states: That petitioner has been adequately and sufficiently punished for the offense charged against him. Petitioner further states that he is the father of four infant children who are dependent solely upon his labor for a livelihood, and that if he is again committed to serve the remainder of his sentence these children will suffer want and become a charge upon the public.

Therefore upon consideration of the above premises, petitioner respectfully makes this application for executive clemency.

PETITION FOR PARDON

To His Excellency, The Governor of the State of Mississippi.

Your petitioner, Fred Sission, respectfully represents: that at the July Term, 1928, of the Circuit Court of Grenada County he was convicted of possessing a still and sentenced to serve eighteen months in the State Penitentiary; that he has served ten months of this sentence; that for the same offense he was convicted in the District Court of the United States, and served in full the sentence of that court.

Petitioner now prays a pardon at the hands of the Governor of the state and in support of his petition states: That petitioner has been adequately and sufficiently punished for the offense charged against him. That petitioner is a negro of only ordinary intelligence, and not mentally capable of understanding the full gravity of the offense which he committed.

Petitioner further states that he is the father of several infant children who are dependent upon him for a living and who will suffer want if he is again committed to serve the remainder of his sentence.

Therefore petitioner makes this application for executive clemency.

REVIEW: SIGNIFICANCE OF THE EXILE AND THE RESTORATION

GOLDEN TEXT—The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Stories Retold.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Stories Retold.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Some Great Men of the Period.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God's Providence in the Exile and the Restoration.

The grade of the class, the aptitude of the scholars and the genius of the teacher are factors which determine the method of review. For adult classes the following suggestions are made:

Study the lessons of the quarter as illustrating the history in God's dealings with His people in their captivity and restoration. Assignment of topics should be made at least one week in advance. Only adult scholars should be expected to use this method. The following subjects might be assigned:

Why God Permitted Israel to Go Into Exile.

Of What the Exile Cured Israel.

What Changed Views of Life Resulted From the Exile.

The Bearing of the Exile Upon Prophecy.

The Relationship of Divine Chastening to Divine Love.

II. Character Study.

Assign the outstanding heroes of the quarter's lessons to members of the class to have them report. This assignment should be made at least a week in advance. Some of the outstanding characters for consideration are:

Ezekiel, Daniel, Nehemiah, Ezra, Zerubbabel and Malachi.

III. Summary of Contents.

This method is usable at all times and can be adapted to most of the grades. The following suggestions are made for carrying out this method:

Lesson for July 7—Before Ezekiel was commissioned as a prophet he was given a vision of the Almighty. After this vision he was given an experimental knowledge of God's Word. He ate the book, appropriated and digested its contents.

Lesson for July 14—Ezekiel sets forth personal responsibility as bearing on the prophet and upon the people to whom he ministered. Ezekiel's responsibility was to hear God's Word and to sound forth the warning. The people's responsibility was to hear and obey.

Lesson for July 21—Ezekiel is the prophet of hope. He ministered to Israel in captivity. God sent him to show Israel the fullness of His plan for the world through them.

Lesson for July 28—Because Daniel made the Lord the arbiter of his life, he was able to know the king's dream with its interpretation.

Lesson for Aug. 4—While Belshazzar and his lords were engaged in drunken revelry a mysterious hand recorded divine judgment. There is a coming day of judgment.

Lesson for Aug. 11—Because of jealousy certain wicked men plotted Daniel's downfall. They trumped up a charge against him on the ground of his foreign religion. Though the foolish decree of the king was executed, Daniel was delivered and his accusers were cast into the den of lions and destroyed.

Lesson for Aug. 18—Though Israel went into captivity as a chastisement of the Lord, in due time He restored them. God's covenants and judgments are sure.

Lesson for Aug. 25—In the restoration of the people to their own land, the first thing necessary was the provision of a place for the worship of God. As soon as this work was done, violent opposition was in evidence. That which God sets out to do shall be completed in spite of all that the Evil One can do.

Lesson for Sept. 1—Through Zerubbabel the people were brought back and established in their own land, but they had gone far away from God. There was now need of a religious leader. Ezra was moved by the Spirit of God to lead them to fellowship.

Lesson for Sept. 8—When Nehemiah heard of the distress of his brethren in Jerusalem he took the matter to the Lord in prayer. Their sorrow and distress were his also. The Lord gave him favor with the king, who permitted him to go back and build the walls of Jerusalem, even giving the credentials of authority to be presented to the rulers of the country.

Lesson for Sept. 15—The method used in bringing back the people to God was God's Word. Because God's Word was made plain to the people they repented their sins and rendered obedience to God.

Lesson for Sept. 22—Malachi as an aid to Nehemiah in effecting reforms pointed out the sins of the people, namely, base ingratitude, a corrupt priesthood, mixed marriages, and robbing God by withholding tithes. He pointed to a Day of Judgment when righteous retribution would be meted out to the wicked and rewards would be given to the faithful.

Mrs. Brown Entertains

The home of Mrs. Ben Brown was the scene of a lovely party Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at bridge.

The tables were placed in the living room and on the porch. The decorations in the living room were of dahlias, roses and other garden flowers and on the porch golden glow and ferns were used. A frozen salad course was served before the games.

Mrs. W. A. Campbell was the fortunate player who won high score prize, an attractive box of guest soap. Miss Lida Coffman cut consolation, a glass perfume bottle.

Those who were privileged to enjoy the afternoon with the charming hostess, were: Mrs. F. A. Stacy, Mrs. J. B. Perry, Mrs. John Huffington, Mrs. Joe Neely, Mrs. A. J. McCaslin, Mrs. I. O. Pearson, Jr., Mrs. O. F. Lawrence, Mrs. Frank Gerard, Mrs. B. S. Dudley, Mrs. W. A. Campbell, Mrs. E. A. Penn, Mrs. Hubert Calhoun, Mrs. F. S. Hill, Mrs. Andrew Carothers, Mrs. C. K. Bailey, Mrs. Mollie Townes, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. Ernest Penn, Mrs. H. H. Heath, Mrs. Robert Sharp, Mrs. H. T. Pope, Mrs. Edgar Underwood, Mrs. R. C. Trusty and Miss Lida Coffman.

Mrs. Dubard Complimented

Mrs. Willie May Dubard, who left Tuesday afternoon for Peabody College at Nashville to complete work on her Master's degree, was complimented, prior to her departure, with a number of informal showers. The reluctance with which the people of Grenada are giving up Mrs. Dubard proves how she has endeared herself to all in the year, she has made her home here.

On Monday afternoon the senior class gave her a lovely handkerchief shower. The handkerchiefs were pinned inside a Japanese umbrella and sent to Mrs. Dubard by the president of the class, Grady Perkins. When the umbrella was opened she was literally showered with dainty handkerchiefs.

The high school teachers presented her with a handsome overnight bag.

The Sunday School class, which Mrs. Dubard formerly taught, also surprised her with a shower on Monday. Their gifts were hose.

Party for Brother

Miss Lula Mae Province was at home to a number of her friends last Thursday evening in honor of her brother, Mr. Robert William Province, of Tulsa, Okla.

During the evening Miss Elizabeth Goza and the hostess entertained the party with several interesting readings and piano-logues. Misses Christine Field and Bertine Lott at the piano furnished delightful music. Refreshing punch was served.

The guest list included: Misses Christine and Claudine Field, Billie and Georgia Chapuis, Ethel Murphy, Bertine Lott, Corrie Mae Smith, Elizabeth Goza, Dorothy Province, Messrs. Robert William Province, Ed Province, William Field, John Province, Lloyd Lott, Hugh Province, and Ralph Peoples and Herron Chapman, of Coffeeville, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sieben.

Mrs. Donald Sharp, Mrs. Homer Williams and Mrs. C. B. Huggins spent Thursday of last week in Charleston. They brought little James Hamilton Caldwell back with them to spend two weeks with Mrs. Sharp, who is his aunt.

Miss Corinne Laney was the gracious hostess Sunday afternoon at an informal tea in the parlors of the White House honoring the members of the faculty of Grenada College.

Mrs. W. R. Todd, Mrs. H. P. Hudson and Miss Kathryn Todd spent several days last week in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beacham, of Jackson, announce the arrival of a lovely little daughter, Frances Ann, on September 9, in Jackson. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Beacham was Miss Marybel Wright of this city. Her many friends here are interested in knowing about her young daughter's arrival and join in congratulating the happy parents.

Mrs. W. B. Hoffa, with her daughters, Misses Louise and Martha, and her son, Billy, returned Sunday from a delightful stay of several weeks on the Mississippi coast.

Dr. J. S. Sharp, with his son, John Sidney, and Mr. Alney McLean enjoyed a fishing trip near Helena, Ark. the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Boushe and daughter, Carolyn, of Memphis, spent the week-end in Grenada visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boushe and family and Miss Addie Boushe and Mr. C. D. Boushe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Caldwell, of Charleston, spent Friday of last week in Grenada as guests of their daughter, Mrs. Donald Sharp.

Mr. Wayne Kimzey, of Memphis, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kimzey, last week-end.

Mr. Robert William Province, of Tulsa, Okla., is enjoying a visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Province, and family.

A feature of the high school program for the year is a weekly talk made by the preachers and other prominent men of the town. These talks are made on Wednesday afternoon. This week an interesting talk was made by the Rev. J. H. Boosey.

The Parish Guild of the Episcopal church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. O. F. Lawrence. Numbers were made for the Yo Yo contest which is to be held at the opera house tonight (Friday) under the auspices of the Episcopal church.

Mrs. Bradley Has Two Parties.

Mrs. John Bradley was hostess at two lovely parties last week, one Thursday afternoon and the other Friday.

Her home on South Street was beautifully decorated each day with a variety of cut flowers.

The party Thursday was given in special compliment to Mrs. Paul Gerard. She was becomingly dressed for the occasion in a fall model of black satin with harmonizing accessories.

There were five tables of players and at the games of bridge Mrs. Joe Rumble proved most successful and she was awarded an attractive framed silhouette. Mrs. George Garner received the low score prize, a set of bridge cable numbers. The honoree was presented an unusually attractive glass pitcher in modernistic design.

An appetizing salad course was served.

On Friday bridge was again chosen as the diversion of the afternoon, and there were three tables of players.

When the scores were added that of Mrs. Ben Perry, Jr. was found to be highest and she was given a hand painted bonbon dish.

After the games the hostess served her guests a pretty salad course with the sandwiches cut in the shape of bridge emblems.

Those present Thursday were: Mrs. Paul Gerard, honoree, Mrs. George Garner, Mrs. Dudley Crawford, Mrs. W. F. High, Mrs. C. K. Bailey, Mrs. E. L. Wilkins, Mrs. S. A. Morrison, Mrs. Knox Pierce, Mrs. H. T. Pope, Mrs. Bruce Newsom, Mrs. Shade Steele, Mrs. Andrew Carothers, Mrs. Joe Rumble, Mrs. Ernest Penn, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. Hubert Calhoun, Mrs. Robert Sharp, Mrs. Paul LaGrone, Mrs. W. E. Roberts and Miss Daisy Leigh Roane.

Friday the guests were: Mrs. John Huffington, Mrs. Frank McHead, Mrs. Bryan Baker, Mrs. E. R. Proudft, Mrs. H. H. Heath, Mrs. Ben Graham, Mrs. Ben Perry, Jr., Mrs. Genie Wright, Mrs. Mollie Townes, Mrs. E. A. Penn, Mrs. C. W. Kosman and Mrs. Ben Brown.

Y. W. C. A. Reception
The Grenada College Y. W. C. A. honored the faculty and new students at a delightful reception last Thursday evening.

Those in the receiving line were Miss Ivy Russell, president of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Mary Miller Murray, president of the student body, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Countiss, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wilson, Misses Corinne Laney, Jennie Epps, Susie Brown, Catherine Johnson, Margaret Harris, Kathryn Daugherty, Virginia Thomas, Lillian McGath, Sophie P. Alston, Iona MacLiller, Bessie Ferguson, E. Faye Griffith, Ruth G. Bale, and Mr. F. H. Bostian.

Misses Mary Charlotte Clarke and Mildred Townsend graciously presided over the punch bowl.

Book Club Meets

Mrs. Henry Pope was hostess to the Book Club, of which she is a member, Wednesday.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon, Mrs. Ben Graham proving most skillful. She was awarded a pink glass cream and sugar set. Mrs. Stokes Kimbrough received the low score prize, a comb set.

The hostess served her guests a tempting salad course.

The following members were present: Mrs. E. R. Proudft, Mrs. Ben Graham, Mrs. Sam Cain, Mrs. John Pressgrove, Mrs. J. K. Avent, Mrs. Berkley, Mrs. J. H. Boosey, Mrs. Bruce Newsom and Mrs. Bryan Revell. Miss Bessie Tucker, of Columbus, and Mrs. Stokes Kimbrough completed the tables in the absence of two of the members.

Form Presidents' Club

Tuesday afternoon in response to a call by Miss Corinne Laney, dean of women, the heads of the various organizations at Grenada College met for the purpose of organizing a president's club. A meeting will be held each week and a program planned for two weeks, in advance so that no club meeting or social activity will conflict with another.

The program as arranged for the next two weeks is: Saturday night, September 28, stunt night; Saturday night, October 5, the Cliftonian Literary Society program; Monday night, October 7, the Philomathean Literary Society program.

Club Meets Wednesday

The Wednesday bridge club met this week with Mrs. John Bradley. Mrs. Homer Williams was winner of the high score prize, two dainty handkerchiefs.

Delicious cream and cake were served. Mrs. W. F. High was a guest at the club, and the four new members who were recently selected were present. They are Mrs. Roland Jones, Mrs. Joe Rumble, Mrs. Jim Horn and Mrs. E. L. Bass.

The Rev. Frank C. Caldwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at McComb, was a Grenada visitor Friday of last week.

Mrs. W. F. Rowell, of Alma, has been for several days the guest of her daughter, Mrs. D. W. Rose, on Poplar Street.

Mr. Clifton McCormick left Sunday for Nashville where he is attending Vanderbilt University.

Mrs. E. L. Bass and daughter, Martha Vance Smith, with Mrs. Bruce Newsom and daughter, Mary Jane, motored to Memphis last Saturday to spend the day. Mrs. Annie Williams accompanied them and remained to visit in the home of her son, Mr. John Williams.

P. T. A. Reception

A social event of much interest among a larger number of people was the Parent-Teacher's reception on last Friday afternoon, honoring the teachers who are members of the faculty for this year.

The reception room in the basement of the high school building was made very pretty for the occasion with decorations of cut flowers and ferns.

Mrs. Sam J. Simmons, as president of the P. T. A., greeted the guests as they arrived. Prof. John Rundle made some announcements in connection with the school program for the year, after which he introduced the teachers, both old and new. The faculty is unusually strong and the school year is starting very auspiciously.

During the afternoon Miss Anita Poe Gann delightfully entertained with a reading. Mrs. R. F. Matthews, with two vocal solos and Mrs. H. B. Miller and Miss Lorraine Lyon, with piano solos. Mrs. Willie May Dubard, who has been with the faculty for nine years, briefly expressed her regret at having to leave for Peabody College at Nashville.

At the conclusion of the program delicious sherbet and sandwiches were served by some of the attractive high school girls.

The many friends of Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt share with her family their anxiety over her condition. She has been seriously ill for some days but the hope is generally expressed that she will soon be on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, of Pea Ridge, are receiving congratulations on the arrival Monday of a sweet little daughter whom they have named Mary Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Gibson and daughter, Marjorie, of Holcomb, were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brooks.

Mrs. Florrie Moss has returned from Yazoo City where she had been for two months, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Grantham and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Henderson and daughter, Jean, of Millport, Ala., have been visiting Mrs. Henderson's grandfather, Mr. J. P. Brooks.

Mrs. J. J. Bridges and Mrs. J. R. Bush and daughter, Betty Jane, of Jackson, visited their sister, Mrs. R. N. Brooks, the latter part of last week. They were en route to Louisville, Ky. to visit another sister, Mrs. W. W. Finley.

Miss Annis Wright, of Yazoo City, is here for an indefinite stay with relatives and friends. Miss Wright has been named by W. H. Griffin, commander of the second division of the United Confederate Veterans, as a maid of honor on his staff for the reunion which will be held at Columbus, October 2, 3 and 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shaw, who live at Glenwild, are happy over the arrival Thursday morning of their firstborn, a fine son.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Barwick, Jr., of Wynne, Ark. were Grenada visitors last week-end. They returned home the first of this week accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Tom Meek to Memphis.

Dr. and Mrs. B. S. Dudley, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Clanton and Faye Easterling and Catherine Clanton spent Sunday in Starkville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sissell and family, of Water Valley, were Grenada visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sisk and little daughter, Cherry, of Durant, spent Saturday night and Sunday in Grenada as the guests of Mrs. Bruce Newsom.

Miss Louise Stokes left several days ago for Weatherford, Texas where she is a very efficient teacher in Weatherford College.

Mrs. Morris Wells returned Tuesday from Ackerman where she filled the role of supply teacher of mathematics in the high school for two weeks.

Messrs. Alston McCaslin and John Lufkin returned last Wednesday from a motor trip through Texas and Mexico. They were gone about a week.

Mr. Jeff Cunningham visited relatives and friends in Memphis last week-end.

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1852, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of inestimable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone, in a size to fit your needs and purse, from CORNER DRUG STORE

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Berryhill and Mrs. Jim Terry, of Water Valley, motored to Grenada Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Goza spent Tuesday afternoon in Water Valley with Miss Margaret Bowles.

Miss Allean Ramsey spent the week-end with relatives in Durant. She drove down through the country with her mother, Mrs. G. B. Ramsey, and her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Montgomery.

Mrs. J. D. Raney visited her daughter, Miss Hazel Raney, the first of the week.

Mr. S. L. Murphy returned Sunday from West Point where he had been visiting relatives.

VALUE beyond expectation

No matter how high your expectations, prepare for a surprise when you see the new Dodge Six Two-Door Sedan. It is a full 5-passenger model—extra-spacious, extra-comfortable—with liberal head-room, leg-room and elbow-room. It has the usual long list of Dodge Six engineering advancements, including weatherproof internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes, 8-bearing rear axle and 7-bearing crankshaft. There is an unusual appeal in its smart, distinctive style. Yet its price is lower than that of any other Dodge Brothers Six model.

Miscellaneous Show for Bride

Mrs. E. B. Province, assisted by the ladies of the Baptist Missionary Society, complimented Mrs. Leo Sieben with a most attractive miscellaneous show. Thursday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Province's home, where the delightful affair took place, was beautifully decorated throughout with a profusion of goldenrod, yellow being the chosen color scheme.

Mrs. R. Q. Nelson, Mrs. E. T. Sweeney and the gracious hostess received the guests and showed them where to register in the bride's book.

Four charming young ladies, Misses Lula Mae Province, Georgia Chapuis and Christine and Claudine Field presided over the punch bowl which had been artistically wreathed with goldenrod and bunches of luscious grapes.

Two interesting contests, word-building from "The Newlyweds" and writing recipes for happiness and success, were enjoyed.

During the afternoon Miss Christine Field played several selections on the piano, and Mrs. W. E. Farr sweetly sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "I Love You Truly". She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. W. Batson.

Immediately following, Misses Christine and Claudine Field brought in a huge yellow basket filled to overflowing with appropriate and useful gifts and presented it to the delighted young bride who was dressed in an attractive frock of peach crepe.

About 50 guests were present to enjoy the afternoon's pleasures with the honoree. Mrs. W. D. Holland, mother of the bride, was a special guest.

Messrs. Albert Galceran, John Sidney Sharp and John McAnn attended the dance in Water Valley last Thursday night.

Messrs. Thomas Grant and Oscar Royce, of Indianola, drove down from the University Sunday to spend a few hours in Grenada with Mr. and Mrs. George Grant. Mr. Robertson Horton, who had come down to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cowles Horton, and Mr. Barkley Coats, who had spent the week-end in Hardy with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Coats, returned to Oxford with them.

Mrs. Pope Hostess

Mrs. Henry Pope was the charming hostess Monday evening at a bridge party given in honor of her house guest, Miss Bessie Tucker, of Columbus.

Vivid roses added a colorful note to the living room, where the three tables of players were seated.

The guests found their places at the tables in a novel manner. The ladies drew their tallies from the score pads which were in the shape of colonial ladies with the pockets on their dresses holding the tallies. The men's tallies were individual packages of matches, one side of them having been printed for the score.

Mrs. E. R. Proudft was the winner of high score prize, and Mr. William Wright, of low score. The latter prize proved to be a Yo Yo, a gift Mr. Wright was pleased to receive but in the handling of which he was not so adept.

A delicious salad course and coffee with the lump sugar cut in the shape of bridge emblems was served after the games.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Pope and the honoree the players were: Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Boosey, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jones, Mrs. S. H. Garner, Mrs. E. R. Proudft, Miss Elizabeth Jones and Messrs. Charlie Wriggins and William Wright.

Sieben Holland

Miss Evelyn Holland and Mr. Leo Sieben were quietly married Friday afternoon, September 13, at 3 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. J. H. Holder officiating. Mrs. Sanford Horton and Miss Lula Mae Province, intimate friends of the young couple, were the only ones present. The wedding was kept secret for several days, hence the delay in publication.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Holland. She received her education at the Hernando high school, her parents having moved to Grenada from Hernando only last November. For her wedding Mrs. Sieben was dressed in a becoming orchid crepe with harmonizing accessories.

Mr. Sieben came to Grenada from Chicago last December. He is connected with the Texas Company and has impressed all who know him as a capable and splendid young man.

The happy couple have an apartment at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Province on College Street.

The Sentinel joins their friends in wishing for them every joy and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lawrence and little daughter, Betty Sue, of Greenwood, and Mr. Rice Lawrence, of Greenville, visited relatives in Grenada Sunday.

Mr. Charles Calhoun left Sunday for Washington, D. C. where he is attending Bliss Electrical College.

Friday Bridge Club Meets

The Friday bridge club enjoyed its meeting last week with Mrs. Walter Allen McCool in her apartment on South Street.

Before the games delicious spaghetti, coffee and hot rolls were served. Miss Lillian Perry graciously assisted the hostess. When the scores were added, after several interesting hands, Mrs. Dudley Crawford's was found to be the highest. She was awarded a beautiful string of beads.

Guest at the club were: Mrs. Hugh West, of Yazoo City and Mrs. Kenneth Wood, of Harlingen, Texas.

Honors Recent Bride

Mrs. D. O. Semmes honored Mrs. Leo Sieben, a recent bride, with a unique and enjoyable shower last Friday afternoon.

The party went out to Bledsoe's and cooked a delicious supper.

Later the lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Sieben with many expressions of good wishes and felicitations.

Besides Mrs. Semmes and the honoree there were present: Emma Louise, Mary Alice and Mary Katherine Kettle, Caroline Province, Lavina Trout, Virginia Williams, Nita Brown, Edna Tillman and Leon Province.

Mr. William Gerard, of Jackson, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gerard, Sunday.

Miss Bessie Tucker, of Columbus, is the pleasant guest of Mrs. Henry Pope, having arrived last Friday. Mrs. Pope and Miss Lida Coffman drove to Winona to meet her.

Misses Bernice and Heard Lawrence spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lawrence. The former is teaching in Greenville and the latter in Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Spain left Sunday to take their attractive little daughter, Peggy, to Memphis where she underwent a major operation. The many friends of this popular little lady are glad to know that she is getting along nicely now. Mr. Spain returned the first of the week, leaving Mrs. Spain to be with Peggy.

Mrs. Paul Gerard left Saturday for Cleveland where she is teaching music at the Delta State Teacher's College. Mrs. Gerard accepted the position prior to Mr. Gerard's removal to Grenada as manager of the Imperial Motor addition to Grenada society, and Mrs. Gerard has made many friends, all of whom regret that it is necessary for her to be away so much but are glad she is planning to spend a number of week-ends here. She was accompanied to Cleveland Saturday by Mr. Gerard. He returned to Grenada Sunday night.

Mrs. R. E. McDaniels had as her guests last Friday her mother, Mrs. W. M. Talley, of Winona, and her sister, Mrs. Hugh West, of Yazoo City.

Mrs. Donald Ross and children, Catherine and Donald, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Campbell and daughter, Mary Elsie, motored to Memphis last Saturday to spend the day. On the way up Catherine suffered an acute attack of appendicitis and it was necessary to rush her to the hospital for an operation as soon as they arrived in Memphis. Her friends are delighted to know that very encouraging reports have been received and hope that she will be able to return to Grenada soon, fully restored to health and strength. Mrs. Campbell, with Mary Elsie and Donald, returned to Grenada, but Mrs. Ross remained to be with her daughter.

Mrs. Ben Perry, Jr. and little daughter, Mary Jane, left Sunday for Webb to visit their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Catoe.

Mrs. I. G. Duncan and son, Richard, of Memphis, left last week after a short visit with Mrs. E. A. Penn.

Mr. Alston McCaslin left Friday for Oxford where he is attending the University.

Mrs. Joseph Nichols, of Scranton, Pa., is visiting her brother, Mr. John Rundle.

Mrs. Alice Hale, of Water Valley, has been visiting her brother, Mr. J. L. Ayent.

Mrs. Henry Pope, Mrs. E. R. Proudft and Miss Bessie Tucker spent Tuesday in Greenwood.

The Twentieth Century Club will meet Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 1, at 3:30 with Mrs. W. H. Kirk. An interesting program on Benjamin Franklin has been arranged and a full attendance of members is desired.

CHRYSLER

has now definitely raised motoring to a still higher plane. The difference in favor of the new Chryslers is decisive and overpowering. You must personally experience this new performance if you would be abreast of the times. Only by demonstration can you learn fully of the great new performance possibilities ushered in by the many characteristic new Chrysler features such as these:

MULTI-RANGE

—the new type of Chrysler gear shift by means of which the driver is able to dominate any modern traffic situation whether on the congested city streets, on the open highway, or in the mountains. Nothing new to learn. Makes driving a joy; shifting, easy—sure—smooth. Engine, gas and oil are conserved while every previous limit of performance is far extended.

DOWN-DRAFT

—the new type of carburetion principle which literally reverses previous fueling practice, with incredible gains in power, smoothness, surety, economy and accessibility. Not merely a gravity manifold, but the same scientific method of carburetion so successfully employed in many recent astonishing aviation endurance flights.

ARCHITONIC

—the new principles and methods of Architonic body construction give the new Chrysler bodies their aristocratic smartness and style, their "dreadnought" strength, permanent silence and restful riding qualities. Actually scores of such basic betterments await you in the new Chryslers!

WEAK SPELLS

"I was so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything."

"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks."

"I read of Cardui. I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before."

"I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

"I did not. I had a rope of my own, and grappling-hooks."

"Why this, when you are a messenger from Guldobaldo?" The castellan turned sharply to his men. "Where did you find him?" he inquired.

It was Bernardo who made haste to answer that they had found him lurking in the passage outside the guard-room as they were coming out.

Tolentino laughed with fierce relish, and swore copiously and humorously.

"So ho!" he cried. "You had passed the sentry unperceived, and you were well within the fortress ere you were discovered, when, behold, you become a messenger of Guldobaldo's hearing orders to me to surrender the fortress, and you take this high tone about our indifferent watch to cover the sly manner of your entrance. Oh-o! 'Twas shrewdly thought of, but it shall not avail you—though it be a ploy to wring the neck of so splintered a cockle."

"You are a fool," said Castrocaro with finality, "and you reason like a fool."

"Do I so? Now, mark me. You said that it was because you knew a secret way into the castle that Guldobaldo chose you for his messenger. Consider now the folly of that statement. You might yourself have construed that Guldobaldo's wish was that you should come hither secretly, though yourself you have admitted the obvious error of such an assumption. But to tell me that an envoy from the duke hiding us surrenders to Cesare Borgia, and so do the will of the latter, should need to come here by secret ways at the risk of his neck—" Tolentino shrugged and laughed in the white face of Messer Lorenzo. "Which of us is the fool in this, sir?" he questioned, leering. Then with an abrupt change of manner, he waved to his men. "Seize and search him," he commanded.

In a moment they had him down upon the floor, and they were stripping him of his garments. They made a very thorough search, but it yielded nothing.

"No matter," said Tolentino as he got into bed again. "We have more than enough against him already. Make him safe for the night. He shall go down the cliff's face again in the morning, and I swear he shall go down faster than ever he came up."

And Messer Tolentino rolled over, and settled down comfortably to go to sleep again.

CHAPTER IV

LOCKED in the guardhouse—since a man who was to die so soon was not worth the trouble of consigning to a dungeon, Messer Lorenzo Castrocaro spent, as you may conceive, a somewhat troubled night. He was too young and too full of life and the zest and warmth of it to be indifferent about quick-ting it, to look with apathy upon death. He had seen death—and a deal of it—in the past two years of his martial career. But it had been the death of others, and never until now had it seemed to him that death was a thing that very much concerned himself. Even when he had imagined that he realized the dangers before him in this enterprise of San Leo, he had felt a certain confidence that it was not for him to die. He was, in fact, in that phase of youth and vigor when a man seems to himself immortal. And even now that he lay on the wooden bench in the guard room, in the dark, he could hardly conceive that the end of him was really at hand. The catastrophe had overtaken him so suddenly, so very casually, and surely death was too great a business to be heralded so quietly.

He sighed wearily and sought to find a more comfortable position on his pitiless hard couch. He thought of many things—of his past life, of early boyhood, of his mother, of his companions in arms, and of martial feats accomplished. He saw himself hacking his way through the living barrier that blocked the breach in the wall of Forli, or riding with Valentino in the mighty charge that routed the Colonna under Capua; and he had a singularly vivid vision of the dead men he had beheld on those occasions and how they looked in death. So would he look tomorrow, his reason told him. But still his imagination refused to picture it.

Then his thought shifted to Madonna Bianca de' Fioravanti, whom he would never see again. For months he had experienced an odd tenderness for that lady, of a sweetly melancholy order, and in secret he had committed some atrocious verses in her honor.

It had been no great affair when all was said; there had been other and more ardent loves in his short life; yet Madonna Bianca had evoked in him a tenderer regard, a holier feeling than any other woman that he had known. Indeed, the contrast was as sharp as that which lies between sacred and profane love. Perhaps it was because she was so unattainable, so distant, so immeasurably above him, the daughter of a great lord, the representative today of a great house, whilst he was but a condottiero, an adventurer who had for his patrimony no more than his wits and his sword. It would have been sweet to have seen her again before dying—to have poured out the story of his love as a swan pours out its death-song. Yet, after all, it did not greatly matter.

You see that his examination of conscience in that supreme hour had little to do with the making of his soul.

He wondered would she hear of the end he had made; and whether, hearing, she would pity him a little; whether, indeed, she would do so much as remember him. It was odd, he reflected, that he should come to meet his end in the very castle that had been her father's; yet he was glad that it was not her father's hand that measured out to him this death that he must die tomorrow.

Physically exhausted as he was by the exertion of his climb, he fell at last into a fitful slumber; and when next he awakened it was to find the morning sunlight pouring through the tall windows of his prison.

He had been aroused by the grating of a key in the lock, and as he sat up, stiff and sore, on his hard couch, the door opened, and to him entered Bernardo, followed by six soldiers, all in their harness.

"A good day to you," said Bernardo civilly, but a trifle thoughtlessly, considering what the day had in store for Messer Lorenzo.

The young man smiled as he swung his feet to the ground.

"A better day to you," said he; and thus earned by his pleasant and his debonair manner, the esteem of the gruff soldier.

It had come to Messer Lorenzo that, since die he must, the thing would be best done jocosely. Lamentations would not avail him. Let him then be blithe. Perhaps, after all, death were not so fearful a business as priests represented it; and as for that flaming hell that lies agape for young men who have drunk of the lusty cup of their youth there would be shrift for him before he went.

He rose, and ran his fingers through his long, fair hair, which had become tousled. Then he looked at his hands, grimy and bruised from yesterday's adventure, and begged Bernardo to fetch him water.

Bernardo's brows went up in surprise. The labor of washing did not seem a reasonable thing to him under the circumstances. Outside in the courtyard a drum began to beat a call. Bernardo thrust out a dubious lip.

"Messer Tolentino is awaiting you," he said.

"I know," replied Castrocaro. "You would not have me present myself thus before him. It were to show a lack of proper respect for the hangman."

Bernardo shrugged, and gave an order to one of his men. The fellow set his pike in a corner and went out, to return presently with an iron basin full of water. This he placed upon the table. Messer Lorenzo thanked him pleasantly, removed his doublet and shirt, and stripping to the waist he proceeded to make the best toilet he could as briefly as possible.

Washed and refreshed, his garments dusted and their disarray repaired, he acknowledged himself ready. The men surrounded him at a word from Bernardo, and marched him out into the open where the impatient castellan awaited him.

With a firm step, his head high, and his cheeks but little paler than their habit, Messer Lorenzo came into the spacious inner hall of the castle. He glanced wistfully at the cobalt sky, and then considered the line of soldiers drawn up in the courtyard, all in their harness of steel and leather, with the gray walls of the fortress for their background. Not more than thirty men in all did they number, and they composed the castle's entire garrison.

A little in front of them the tall castellan was pacing slowly. He was all in black, in mourning for his late master, the Lord Fioravanti, and his hand rested easily upon the hilt of his sheathed sword, thrusting the weapon up behind. He halted at the approach of the doomed prisoner, and the men surrounding the latter fell away, leaving him face to face with Messer Tolentino.

The castellan considered him sternly for a little while, and Messer Lorenzo bore the inspection well, his deep blue eyes returning the other's solemn glance intrepidly.

At last the captain spoke: "I do not know what was your intent in penetrating here last night, save that it was traitorous; that much the lies you told me have made plain, and for that you are to suffer death, as must any man taken as you have been."

"For death I am prepared," said Messer Lorenzo coolly; "but I implore you to spare me the torture of a funeral oration before I go. My fortitude may not be equal to so much, particularly when you con-

Tolentino Smiled Sourly, Considering Him.

"I have had no breakfast," Tolentino smiled sourly, considering him.

"Very well," said he. And then: "You will not tell me who you are and what you sought here?"

"I have told you already, but you choose to discredit what I say. What need, then, for further words? It were but to weary you and me. Let us get to the hanging, which, from the general look of you, is no doubt a matter that you understand better."

"Ha!" said Tolentino. "But now quite suddenly, from the face of men there was one who, having heard question and answer, made bold to call out:

"Sir captain, I can tell you who he is."

The captain wheeled sharply upon the man-at-arms who had made the announcement. "He is Messer Lorenzo Castrocaro."

"One of Valentino's condottieri?" exclaimed Tolentino.

"The same, sir captain," the man assured him; and Messer Lorenzo, looking, recognized one who had served under his own banner some months since.

He shrugged indifferently at the captain's very evident satisfaction. "What odds?" he said. "One name will serve as well as another to die under."

"And how," quoth the captain, "would you prefer to die? You shall have your choice."

"Of old age, I think," said Messer Lorenzo airily, and heard the titter that responded to his sally. But Tolentino scowled, displeased. "I mean, sir, will you be hanged, or will you leap from the ledge to which you climbed last night?"

"Why, that now is a very different matter. You circumscribe the choice. Apportion for me, I pray, the death that will afford you the greatest diversion."

Tolentino considered him, stroking his long chin, his brows wrinkled. He liked the fellow for his intrepidity during the face of death. But—he was castellan of San Leo, and knew his duty.

"Why," said he slowly at length, "we know that you can climb like an ape; let us see if you can fly like a bird. Take him up to the ramparts yonder."

"Ah, but stay!" cried Messer Castrocaro, with suddenly startled thoughts of those sins of his youth and with a certain corollary hope. "Are you all pagans in San Leo? Is a Christian to be thrust across the black edge of death unshriven? Am I to have no priest, then?"

Tolentino frowned, as if impatient of this fresh motive for delay; then he signed shortly to Bernardo.

COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

By Lafayette Atkinson
Superintendent of Education
The First Month of School
This week brings to close the first month of school work in the consolidated schools of the county. Much interest has been taken in the organization of the schools for the session by the patrons, pupils and teachers. The enrollment has surpassed any previous opening month of schools in the county. The attitude of the children for better and more effective work has been outstanding and gratifying. The teachers have all departments well organized and working for the best interest of the school. Everything points to a successful school year.

On Tuesday, the report cards will be ready for distribution by the teachers of all schools. Children will be given these cards and instructed to take them home for inspection by the patrons. Parents are urged to make a careful examination of the report each month and, if not satisfactory, they should confer with the teacher or principal that some co-operative effort may be made to get better results for the next month. The interest and progress of the child depends largely upon the care and attention which the parents give to the work being done. If the report is good, commend the child and, at the first opportunity, lend a word of encouragement to the teacher. Words of encouragement will help to build a better spirit and enthusiasm for the school and community. Parents, see that your children have reports at the close of each month.

School Day at the North Mississippi Fair will be on Tuesday rather than on Monday. Children will be admitted free on this day provided they have secured tickets from the principal of the school which they attend. Tickets will be distributed to the principals of the schools at the regular teachers meeting. Children expecting to enter the gates must have their tickets beforehand. See your principal and have tickets before coming to the fair.

The home science department of the Holcomb Consolidated School has moved into new quarters. The trustees have built a modern cottage for the home science classes. A large laboratory, living room, rest room and kitchen arrangements have been provided. About 35 girls have enrolled and splendid work is being done under the supervision of Miss Edith Crew. It is the hope that the department will do well in the new building and that it will have a successful year.

The attendance at the Wolfe-Hardy School has increased since opening of school. The trustees have employed an additional teacher to assist in the work. A new room is being constructed at this time to take care of the growth of the school. It is hoped that everything will be in readiness within the next ten days.

The meeting of colored teachers will be held in the Grenada Colored School Auditorium on Monday, October 14, at 10 o'clock. Every teacher is expected to be present.

PETITION FOR PARDON

To The Honorable Theo. G. Bilbo, Governor of The State of Mississippi.

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the State of Mississippi, and more especially of Grenada County, hereby petition Your Excellency to grant a full and complete pardon unto Robert Joliff, who was convicted in the Circuit Court of Grenada County on a charge of Possession of Still and sentenced to serve a term of thirty months in the State Penitentiary, said sentence having been affirmed by the Supreme Court on the 18th day of February, 1929.

We believe the said Joliff has now atoned for any breach of the law to which he might have been a party; that he has made a good prisoner and his conduct in every respect has been exemplary; that if granted his freedom, we believe he will hereafter make the State an upright, law-abiding citizen, and for these reasons most earnestly request Executive Clemency at your hands.

Respectfully submitted,
E. L. Atkinson and Others

Just Like An Ostrich

A medical authority says that a person who tries to cover up skin blemishes and pimples with toilet creams and powders is just as foolish as an ostrich that buries its head in the sand to avoid danger. Skin eruptions are nature's warning that constipation is throwing poisons into your blood stream and weakening your whole constitution. Remove the constipated condition and you will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your disfigured skin. The best way to do this is with a course of Herbine, the vegetable medicine that acts naturally and easily, which you can get at CORNER DRUG STORE

America's finest medium-priced automobile?

Oakland combines a long wheelbase with a short turning radius—giving greater handling ease. Its bodies by Fisher provide such convenience and comfort features as drivers' seats adjustable as you drive, clear-vision easily-regulated VV windshields and side cowl ventilators.

Foot-controlled headlights—automatic spark control assuring correct spark occurrence at any speed—spring covers which add to riding ease by keeping springs permanently lubricated and free from mud, rain and dust . . . all these are comfort and convenience features which only the All-Americans in its field combines.

Come in and let us show you how, on every basis of comparison, today's Oakland is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

Facts which prove Oakland supremacy

The following facts were obtained from a comparison of the Oakland All-American Six with 20 other medium-priced automobiles. All told, 878 individual comparisons were made. Of these Oakland proved to be distinctly superior in 451 or 51.37 per cent. The 20 cars combined were at best equal to Oakland on 382 or 43.50 per cent. And 13 of the 20 were higher-priced than Oakland.

Oakland has a wheelbase as long as Oakland's, which is 117 inches. That car requires a turning circle to the left of 42 feet as compared with Oakland's 36 feet. Six higher-priced cars have shorter wheelbases.

FULL AUTOMATIC SPARK CONTROL
Only Oakland and two other cars in the field provide this advancement. It is especially satisfactory when used with the G-M-R cylinder head.

CROSS-FLOW RADIATOR
Only Oakland in the entire field has the Cross-Flow Radiator or anything similar to it. All other cars use the down-flow radiator; this despite the fact that 13 of the 20 are higher-priced than Oakland.

FISHER BODY Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

WHEELBASE Only one car as low priced as Oakland All-American Six, $1145 to $1375, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring covers and Lowboy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list prices. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Finance Plan available at minimum rate.

"See" Your Customers by Telephone

Your customers are busy people. There are times when they prefer that you visit them by telephone. You save their time as well as your own.

As your business in the larger towns grows and takes more and more of your salesmen's time, why neglect the smaller towns? Keep up your contacts—cover them by telephone from the larger towns. We will be glad to furnish you a regional Key Town Map which many companies have found helpful. It shows you how to reach easily and quickly more towns and more customers. The results and the great saving in traveling expense which it makes possible will surprise you.

Our credit plan makes it unnecessary to carry cash for the calls. Ask the business office today for full details.
